SIX MUST-HAVES FOR A KILLER BEACH PARTY

BEACH PARTIES ARE THE BEST, and you know you had a good one when you wake up the morning after still wearing trunks in a sandy bed. The two main ingredients for a killer beach party are, of course, a beach and some good people—but what else can you bring to make your party that much better? Well, leave it to the beach party experts here at TransWorld SURF, partying on beaches since 1999. We'll tell you about six products that will make your beach party the best it can be.

1

ELECTRONICS LIFESAVER
BHEESTIE BAG
$20
Nothing matches the feeling of jumping in the ocean with your cell phone in your pocket—it's the painful realization that all the numbers you've collected are gone, and sending those e-mails saying you lost all your numbers sucks. The Bheestie Bag is your savior if you're prone to liquid dips with your phone. This magical bag is filled with water-absorbing beads that suck the moisture out of your phone—genius!

POST-BRONZE SLATHER
FRUIT OF THE EARTH ALOE VERA
$3
You just had a long-ass day at the beach, and if you're gonna have any chance of continuing the party into the night, better slather up, buttercup! Fruit Of The Earth Aloe can soothe any burn, and it makes for an amazing excuse to take a lady right off the beach: "Let's go back to my place and rub each other with aloe"—if you don't get slapped, it's on.

DON'T LOSE YOUR JUICE
KIWI U-POWERED SOLAR CHARGER
$50
Starting your day with a low-battery sign on your phone is the worst, especially when you're the one texting everybody directions to your beach party! But wait, there is a way to charge your phone while soaking up the sun. This solar-powered battery charger takes the sun's rays and gives you the juice you need to liven up your batteries and continue your onslaught of texts and phone calls.

BLACK BALL DEFEATER
THE ORIGINAL 54 BEATER
$150
Having your beach black-balled is a real buzz kill, thankfully, the Beater beats black-balls! This little rip stick can be ridden as a skimboard, bodyboard, or surfboard. It can also be used as a drink tray, headboard for your beach bed, tombstone for your passed-out friend, and it's a great tool for spanking bikini-clad party guests. If you're looking for the funnest board of the summer, it's here.

BEACH BLASTER
KICKER IK350 IPOD/IPHONE DOCK
$200
RECHARGEABLE BATTERY PACK
$100
You can't have a beach party without tunes! Most portable iPod speakers on the market can't cut through the sound of waves—that's why you need to pull out the big guns and get a boom box that will bump. The Kicker IK350 cranks and won't lose sound quality at high volume. The battery pack is pricey but lasts all day and is necessary for beach blasting.

TECH FLOPS
NIKE 6.0 BROBRAH SANDALS
$45
It's summer, and if you're not skating or eating dinner, you're most likely wearing flip-flops—so why not make them as tech as possible? These new Nike flops have all the bells and whistles that make a good sandal great, including Nike Flywire straps, a molded footbed, and the best part—they're called The Brobrah. We're all Brobrahs at heart, so go ahead and embrace your inner bro, brah.
